

That Ju-Ju you do...

Jungle Fever!

Concept

As they enter the venue guests are met by the renowned British Explorer Major Reginald Blundershot and his intrepid, always optimistic wife, Sybil.

They are informed that as Members of the Royal Geographical Society they are journeying into Darkest Africa to witness the rare mating ritual of the Ugandan Dung beetle.

There is Peril at Every turn; restless natives, dreadful diseases and ferocious animals. Being plucky and British they must press on, keep a stiff upper lip and take tea punctually at four.

They will be lead across a ravine, through crocodile infested swamps, impenetrable jungle and on to a Camp in a clearing where they will fed on rotting Wildebeest and Pigmy steaks. Along the way they meet a cast of crazy characters who bring the Jungle to life.

Your MC's

Frightfully, frightfully British, Reggie and Sybil will run the night; greet guests, administer gin and tonics, make announcements, give away prizes and wrestle tigers.

Happenings

At a given point in the evening, to a fanfare of drumbeats and excitement we parade our intrepid explorers into the room, hung by their feet on poles. They are carried to a stage where the witch doctor greets them with a frenzied dance and keening incantations. They are saved at the last minute by Tarzan who comes bounding through the crowd. This is a good way to gather people's attention and to segue into a formal welcome and speeches.

Happening #2 Company CEO enters carried in a sedan chair. The act would be executed with lavish fanfare, tea and scones optional.
